Can You Claim Compensation as a Passenger in a Vehicle Accident?

Yes, it's possible to claim compensation if you're a passenger in a car, truck or motorcycle that was involved in an accident. Most passengers mistakenly assume they aren't entitled to compensation if hurt in an accident. The law protects you even if you're not the driver, so you can get compensated by filing a passenger injury claim.

If you're injured as a passenger in a car accident, you need to file a claim against the car insurance company of the policyholder at fault for the accident. It could be the insurance policy of the car you were riding in or the other vehicle.

If the person driving the vehicle, you were in was not found at fault, their car insurance could also kick in to cover if the other driver didn't have insurance or if they didn't have enough insurance to cover all the damages.

We are experts in understanding insurance, and you have a right to file a claim. Call us and we can help to ensure that you find ALL the insurance coverage possible to get the most out of your accident case. If you're a passenger injured in a car accident, don't give up your rights and shy away from filing a claim.

Shuman's Review Spotlight

"Shuman Legal provided me with the best legal representation possible after my pedestrian accident. They were able to recover all my medical expenses and more. Their team was compassionate, knowledgeable, and always kept me informed throughout the entire process. I highly recommend their services to anyone in need of a personal injury lawyer."

Use a Philips CPAP Machine? READ THIS!

Do you use a Philips CPAP machine to get a peaceful night's sleep?

Watch out! It may be silently stealing your life.

Millions of Philips CPAP machine users found out they were breathing in cancerous chemicals used in these products. The machine's toxic foam lining was breaking down and entering the airways of patients.

The worst part is Philips knew about this defect at least 3 years before it was publicly exposed.

This product defect triggered a wave of health issues like cancer, chest pain, dizziness, asthma, infection, and pneumonia. According to the FDA, there have been over 98,000 injuries and 342 deaths reported so far.

The Philips CPAP mass tort is shaping up to be one of the biggest defective medical product lawsuits in history. It's still in the discovery phase with several new victims joining in.

So if you're a victim of their negligence, it's not too late!

Call us today and we'll help you get the compensation you deserve.
